the Pattern (Thread)

The results of the coin tosses (Spins/Twists) transform the relationships between the cards (Strands/Strings) and the Driver is the designator of general fortune/misfortune for the new "Thread" or connection.

THE INTENDED METAPHOR

The Fey “weave threads of fate” for the Cosmic Dreamcatcher using:

- 3 random cards out of 8 (“strands/strings”),
- 3 connecting "spins," coin tosses (= 2 “twists/plies,” the upward or downward movement of the thread, and the “driver” = the last of the 3 coin tosses), which result in a new yarn or thread, a transformation pattern that is to be interpreted.

Central figures or “archetypes” in the tradition:

- 1 Creation/Spark/Life Force
- 2 Anchor/Hook/Bridge
- 3 Pathfinder/Fire in the Darkness/Grounding
- 4 Synthesis/Bond/Trap
- 5 Flow/Hourglass/Dance
- 6 Abundance/Growth/Frivility
- 7 Decay/Downfall/Distance
- 8 Source/Cycle/Return

Here is an overview of the 8 Fey archetypes and their possible interpretations, based on the results of the coin tosses and the associated spins:

1. Creation/Spark/Life Force

- Up-Spin: Beginning of a new project or phase, a creative spark that sets life in motion. A spark ignites and spreads in a spiral, generating ascending energy that brings forth new life and ideas. It is a moment of origin where potential is set into motion.
- Down-Spin: Difficulties in starting, delays, or blocked creative energy that cannot flow. The creative energy contracts, possibly due to internal blockages or external influences. The spark fades or turns inward, leading to self-reflection or stagnation.

2. Anchor/Hook/Bridge

- Up-Spin: Stability, grounding, a firm anchor in reality that provides support. The anchor rotates and pulls one deeper into matter, offering stability and connection to the physical world. A strong foundation is established upon which to build.
- Down-Spin: Feeling stuck, unable to let go, excessive attachment to something or someone. The connection dissolves, the anchor loses its grip. There is a danger of losing footing or becoming disconnected from important bonds.

3. Pathfinder/Fire in the Darkness/Grounding

- Up-Spin: Orientation, guidance, finding one's own path, inner clarity. An upward spiral of light leads the way, illuminating the path and bringing clarity to darkness. Inspiration and guidance are present.
- Down-Spin: Confusion, lost path, difficulties in orientation or finding one's own way. The energy spirals downward, the light diminishes. Disorientation may occur, and the path appears unclear or lost.

4. Synthesis/Bond/Trap

- Up-Spin: Integration, merging of elements, strong connections, and collaboration. Elements swirl together and merge into a harmonious unity. Collaboration and integration lead to something greater than the sum of its parts.
- Down-Spin: Feeling of limitation, being trapped in a situation, bonds that become burdensome. The connections become entangled, forming knots. There is a feeling of being trapped or overwhelmed by too many influences.

5. Flow/Hourglass/Dance

- Up-Spin: Harmonious flow of time, natural changes, balance, and the dance of life. Time flows in a steady rhythm, like a dance developing in a spiral. One moves in harmony with natural cycles.
- Down-Spin: Stagnation, feeling out of balance, time slipping away or not used optimally. The flow is interrupted, the hourglass stalls. It feels like swimming against the current or being out of sync.

6. Abundance/Growth/Frivility

- Up-Spin: Growth, expansion, abundance, increase of resources, positive development. Growth expands outward in a spiral, abundance spreads and reaches new levels. It is a time of plenty and possibilities.
- Down-Spin: Overextension, risks due to excess, danger of growth getting out of control. Excessive growth leads to instability; energy is spread too thin. There is a risk of waste or decay due to overextension.

7. Downfall/Distance/Decay

- Up-Spin: Letting go, liberation, necessary ending that makes room for new beginnings. The descent follows a natural spiral, leading to necessary transformation. Letting go allows renewal by making space for the new.
- Down-Spin: Decay, separation, painful distance, or loss that is hard to cope with. The decay accelerates uncontrollably; chaos arises. Sudden losses or unexpected endings may occur.

8. Source/Cycle/Return

- Up-Spin: Return to the roots, renewal, cycle of life, new beginning through reflection. The energy returns to the source in an ascending spiral, renews itself, and begins a new cycle on a higher level.
- Down-Spin: Repetitions without progress, stuck in old patterns, difficulties breaking the cycle. The cycle repeats on the same level without progress. One is trapped in repetitions and cannot find a way to advance.

Additional Interpretation of the Coin Tosses:

The spins (Up or Down) on the coins determine how the cards are connected and how the resulting "thread" is to be interpreted. An Up-Spin signals positive developments and ease in achieving goals, while a Down-Spin points to challenges and possible distortions.

This interpretation can take on different nuances depending on the combination of drawn cards and the results of the coin tosses, making the divination system both profound and flexible.
